Curtin University

Twitter: @CurtinUni

Curtin University is an innovative, global university known for its high impact research, strong industry partnerships and commitment to preparing students for the jobs of the future.

Since its establishment as the Western Australian Institute of Technology in 1967, Curtin has expanded significantly in terms of student population, degree offerings, research collaborations and global footprint.

The university now welcomes more than 51,000 students to its campuses in Australia, Singapore, Malaysia, Dubai and Mauritius. It has been ranked within the top one per cent of universities in the world (ARWU 2018).

Throughout its journey, Curtin has stayed true to the writings of its namesake, Australia's 14th prime minister, John Curtin, who believed that universities should "look ever forward". This mantra is the foundation for a culture of teaching and research innovation, and continues to drive students and staff to make tomorrow better.

The university offers a range of undergraduate and postgraduate degrees in business, humanities, health sciences, resources, engineering and related sciences. Research is also a focus, and significant growth in research output and collaboration has been the main catalyst for Curtin's rise up the international rankings in recent years.

Curtin was the first University in Australia to develop and implement its own Reconciliation Action Plan and last year, like BHP, the University achieved Elevate level, the highest in Reconciliation Australia's Workplace RAP Framework.

Curtin University has been a CEDA member since 2012.

keynote speaker

Andrew Mackenzie

Chief Executive Officer, BHP

Twitter: @bhp

Andrew was appointed as Chief Executive Officer of BHP effective from 10 May 2013. He joined in 2008 as Chief Executive Non-Ferrous with responsibility for over half of BHP 100,000 strong workforce across four continents. His portfolio included Escondida in Chile, the world's largest single source of copper.

He has over thirty years' experience in oil and gas, petrochemicals and minerals and has held senior positions in BP and Rio Tinto. He has been a non-executive Director of Centrica and has served on the Audit, Remuneration and Corporate & Social Responsibility committees. He has also chaired Demos, one of the UK's most influential think-tanks.

Andrew has a doctorate in Chemistry and a first-class degree in Geology. In early 2014 he was announced as being on the Science Council's list of top 100 UK practising scientists. On 1 May 2014 he was elected a Fellow of the Royal Society of London.

welcome to country

Dr Richard Walley OAM

Director, Aboriginal Productions and Promotions

Dr Richard Walley OAM is a Nyoongar man of the South-West region.

In 1978, Richard along with three other Aboriginals formed the 'Middar Aboriginal Theatre Group'. Middar, in its lifetime took the Nyoongar culture to many different countries around the world.

Richard has been awarded an Order of Australia Medal and two honorary doctorates for his contribution to the promotion of Nyoongar Culture and the Arts.

In 2010, Richard received the 'Citizen of the Year Award' in the 'Indigenous Leadership' category of the Celebrate WA Awards.

A fluent speaker of the Nyoongar language. Richard continues to push boundaries, whilst always focusing on the bigger 'community' picture of Culture, Arts and Environment.

chair

Professor Deborah Terry AO
Vice-Chancellor, Curtin University

Twitter: @CurtinUni

Professor Deborah Terry was appointed Curtin University's Vice-Chancellor in February 2014 and is a Fellow and the immediate past President of the Academy of Social Sciences in Australia (ASSA), as well as Deputy Chair of the Board of Universities Australia. She is also on the Board of the Australian Research Council, Committee for Perth, St Hilda's Anglican School, Australia and New Zealand School of Government and AARNET, the provider of Australia's network infrastructure for education and research, and a past Chair of the Australian Council of Learned Academies and the Australian Research Council's College of Experts in the Social, Behavioural and Economic Sciences.

Professor Terry completed her PhD in Social Psychology at the Australian National University in Canberra. She had a distinguished career at the University of Queensland, initially as an internationally recognised scholar in psychology, before progressing through a number of senior leadership roles, including Senior Deputy Vice-Chancellor. She was made an Officer in the General Division of the Order of Australia (AO), the country's highest honours system for achievement and service, in June 2015 for distinguished service to education in the tertiary sector.

reflections

Professor Megan Davis

Pro Vice-Chancellor, UNSW Sydney

about CEDA

CEDA is a respected independent national organisation with an engaged cross-sector membership. More than 780 of Australia's leading businesses, organisations and academic institutions from around the country are members of CEDA. For more than 50 years, CEDA has delivered informed discourse and rigorous research to influence good public policy for Australia's economic and social development.

Membership

Organisations join CEDA because CEDA delivers exposure to high level thought leadership, timely briefings on issues of economic importance, access to networking and brand reach through sponsorship and hosting opportunities. In addition to high profile public events, CEDA also delivers regular member only events for employees of member organisations and exclusive Trustee only boardroom briefings for senior executives from member organisations. These provide a unique opportunity for peer-to-peer knowledge exchange and for speakers and attendees to talk candidly on issues.

Research and policy

CEDA's only agenda is to pursue good public policy to progress Australia's economic and social development. Since 1960 CEDA has produced more than 3000 publications, research reports and articles highlighting emerging issues and directions in a diverse range of policy areas. Research in 2018 will focus on inequality; community attitudes to economic growth and development; and a major review of the purpose of economic growth and development in Australia.
