Griffith Business School

Griffith Business School is part of Griffith University, a dynamic, innovative and well-respected public university. Our University has more than 50,000 students from 131 countries and is located in South-East Queensland (Brisbane, Logan and the Gold Coast), the fastest growing region in Australia.

Considered one of Australia's leading business educators, Griffith Business School is an accredited member of AACSB International – The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business. AACSB Accreditation is known, worldwide, as the longest standing, most recognised form of professional accreditation an institution and its business programs can earn. In the QS World University Subject Rankings 2017 we received a world Top 10 position (number nine globally and number one in Australia) in Hospitality and Leisure Management. Hospitality and Tourism Management at Griffith rated second in the world in the Shanghai Ranking's Global Ranking of Academic Subjects 2017. Other notable ranking achievements included Politics and International Studies retaining a Top 100 ranking; Sports-related subjects ranking in the Top 100; Business and Management retaining our Top 200 place; and Economics and Econometrics ranked in the Top 300.

We are committed to advancing innovative and socially responsible business education, scholarship and practice in Australia and the Asia region. With Asian studies, government and international relations, public policy and public administration, tourism, sport, event and real estate management in our broad program portfolio, we provide a wide range of undergraduate and postgraduate programs as well as a substantial PhD program.

We are an active partner in the Globally Responsible Leadership Initiative, a signatory to the UN Principles for Responsible Management Education and the UN Global Compact. This engagement demonstrates our strong commitment to sustainable business practices, corporate social responsibility and to developing global citizens through our education programs.

Griffith University has been a member of CEDA since 1995.

keynote speaker

Ita Buttrose AC OBE

Chair, Australian Broadcasting Corporation (ABC)

Ita Buttrose AO OBE is a truly exceptional Australian: a legendary media trailblazer; businesswoman; best-selling author; committed community and welfare contributor; and former Australian of the Year.

Ita is Chair of the Australian Broadcasting Commission. She balances this high profile role with charitable responsibilities include serving as National Ambassador of Dementia Australia following her term as National President (2011-2014). She is also Patron of the Macular Disease Foundation, Emeritus Director of Arthritis Australia and Ambassador for Breast Cancer Network Australia.

In 2019 Ita was chosen as a Shero Barbie, one of a collection of 20 Barbie Dolls that globally recognise female role models and achievers.

Ita was the founding editor of Cleo; the youngest ever editor of The Australian Women's Weekly; the first woman to ever edit a major metropolitan newspaper in Australia as Editor-in-Chief of the Daily and Sunday Telegraphs; and the first female director of News Ltd Australia. She has hosted prime time shows on radio and television.

Ita was inducted into the Australian Media Hall of Fame in 2017.

In 2018, Ita was conferred with the University of New South Wales' highest honour—an honorary doctorate in medicine in recognition of her eminent service to health, being an inspirational role model for aspiring women in business and making a difference in society. In 2015 she was conferred an Honorary Doctor of Letters by the University of Wollongong, for her contribution to mental health and ageing. In 2014 Sydney's Macquarie University conferred an Honorary Doctor of Letters on Ita in recognition of her contribution to the arts.

She was the Inaugural NSW Excellence in Women's Leadership award winner (2014).

Professor Carolyn Evans

Vice Chancellor and President, Griffith University

Professor Carolyn Evans commenced her appointment as Vice Chancellor and President of Griffith University in February 2019, leading one of Australia's fastest-growing and most progressive tertiary institutions, ranked in the top 2% of universities worldwide.

Prior to joining Griffith, Carolyn was Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Graduate and International) and Deputy Provost (2017-2018) at the University of Melbourne, and Dean and Harrison Moore Professor of Law, University of Melbourne Law School (2011-2017). She has degrees in Arts and Law from the University of Melbourne and a doctorate from Oxford University, where she studied as a Rhodes Scholar and held a stipendiary lectureship for two years. In 2010, Carolyn was awarded a Fulbright Senior Scholarship to allow her to travel as a Visiting Fellow to American and Emory Universities to examine questions of comparative religious freedom. She has also taught in the human rights summer school at European University Institute.

Throughout her career, Carolyn has promoted the importance of universities combining excellence in teaching and research with a commitment to social justice and inclusion.

Carolyn is the author of Legal Protection of Religious Freedom in Australia (Federation Press 2012), Religious Freedom under the European Court of Human Rights (OUP 2001) and co-author of Australian Bills of Rights: The Law of the Victorian Charter and the ACT Human Rights Act (LexisNexis 2008). She is co-editor of Religion and International Law (1999, Kluwer); Mixed Blessings: Laws, Religions and Women's Rights in the Asia-Pacific Region (2006 Martinus Nijhoff); and Law and Religion in Historical and Theoretical Perspective (CUP 2008).

She is an internationally recognised expert on religious freedom and the relationship between law and religion and has spoken on these topics in the United States; United Kingdom; Russia; China; Greece; Vietnam; India; Hong Kong; Switzerland; Malaysia; Nepal; and Australia. Her teaching was in the areas of public law, including Constitutional Law, Administrative Law and human rights.

Carolyn is a Trustee of CEDA.

about CEDA

CEDA is an independent, not-for-profit membership organisation. CEDA identifies policy issues that matter for Australia's future and pursue solutions that deliver better economic, social and environmental outcomes for Australia. CEDA's cross-sector membership of 770 spans every state and territory and includes Australia's leading businesses, community organisations, government departments and academic institutions.

Membership

Organisations join CEDA because CEDA delivers exposure to high level thought leadership, timely briefings on issues of economic importance, access to networking and brand reach through sponsorship and hosting opportunities. In addition to high profile public events, CEDA also delivers regular member only events for employees of member organisations and exclusive Trustee only boardroom briefings for senior executives from member organisations. These provide a unique opportunity for peer-to-peer knowledge exchange and for speakers and attendees to talk candidly on issues.

Research and policy

CEDA's only agenda is to pursue good public policy to progress Australia's economic and social development. Since 1960 CEDA has produced more than 3000 publications, research reports and articles highlighting emerging issues and directions in a diverse range of policy areas. Research in 2019 will focus on Australia's long-term budget position, the effects of temporary migration, a survey of Australian businesses on their approach to economic development, and new approaches to addressing entrenched disadvantage.
